

IONE & MANN

PRESS RELEASE October 2023 / for immediate release

Announcing new Mayfair Gallery on Conduit Street, W1 and inaugural exhibition

IONE & MANN is pleased to announce the expansion of its presence in London with a new space in Mayfair, opening during Frieze Week.

The new premises, located on the first floor of 6 Conduit Street, will be the permanent home for the gallery's programme, which will be complemented by off-site projects in Cromwell Place and internationally.

Coinciding with Frieze London, the inaugural exhibition is titled HERE and celebrates the gallery's new chapter in Mayfair showcasing gallery artists and friends:

Bárbara Alegre (b. 1976, Barcelona, Spain), Irini Bachlitzanaki, (b. 1984, Athens, Greece), James Cabaniuk (b. 1987, Carlisle, UK), Jana Emburey (b. 1979, Bratislava, Slovakia), Jonathan Kelly (b. 1988, Hereford, UK), Alice Kemp (b. 1987, Brighton, UK), Yuichiro Kikuma (b. 1982, Chiba, Japan) and Emily Platzer (b. 1989, Hampshire, UK).

HERE marks the gallery's presence on Conduit Street and a milestone moment in its journey so far but also reflects the current point in the practice and life of each of the participating artists, all in their 30s and 40s.

The works selected for this exhibition, mostly new or recent, are different expressions of painting, ranging from expressive and gestural to meticulously controlled and mechanical, from abstract to representational, almost photorealist. Although unique and representative of the artists' current practices and the paths that led to them, the works share an energy that is simultaneously settled and expansive.
